

"STAIN" HAS ELEMENTS OF UNUSUAL STRENGTH

Work of Eleanor Woodruff Before Camera, Subject of Highest Praise

To anyone who is interested in a picture of unusual strength and virility, a story of tremendous interest, well told and splendidly acted, we strongly recommend "The Stain" at the Lion theater. To our mind it is one of the best pictures that we have seen and we believe that any lover of the movies would regret missing it.

"The Stain" tells the story of a crook—a struggling bank clerk, who, despairing of obtaining either position or a decent livelihood through the bank, turns to the study of the law for a career. He remains at the bank after hours to study and one day a customer brings a belated deposit. He accepts it and embezzles the money, deserts his wife and child, and, under an assumed name, becomes a lawyer in a distant city. Fortune smiles on him and dragging himself up over the blighted lives of his wife and little daughter he becomes a judge of great prominence, a creature of a political boss and a candidate for governor.

His wife is left destitute and his daughter, placed in an orphan asylum, is adopted by strangers. It is she who bears the stain, the weakness of the father is transmitted to her and she is arrested for shop lifting. The political ring uses her as a means to break the man who is fighting them and she is brought to trial before her father. Her lawyer pleads her defense.

In a wonderfully well constructed dramatic climax, just when the foreman of the jury is about to announce the verdict, her mother rushes before the jury and denounces the judge as the real thief, her husband and the girl's father. The judge falls dead across his desk and the foreman announces that the verdict was "Not Guilty."

The picture is in six parts, a little too long perhaps but at the same time, with the exception of a few minutes in each of the fifth and sixth reels, it holds the interest to the very last foot of film. Ordinarily one considers himself lucky to see one part particularly well played but in "The

ANNUAL INSTITUTE OF COUNTY TEACHERS

Superintendent Riggins Obtains Splendid Material for Institute During Fair Week

For the annual Maricopa County Teachers' Institute to be held during fair week some interesting speakers have been secured by County School Superintendent Riggins, to give the addresses. The institute will start with the fair and continue four days, and the new Monroe school is to be requisitioned for the occasion. This year's institute will be conducted in three sections. The grammar grade and high school section will be in the hands of H. W. Shryock, president of the southern Illinois state normal school of Carbondale, Illinois, and W. H. Mace, professor of history of Syracuse University, Syracuse, New York, and author of the series of histories adopted by the county schools. Mrs. Luther Stewart, of the Arizona School of Music, will conduct the music section. The drawing department will be in charge of Mrs. Cordelia McClain, supervisor of drawing for the local schools.

This array of talent has been secured by this county in conjunction with Cochise county, which will share expenses, utilizing the services of the speakers the week following the Maricopa institute.

The credit for the arrangement of this year's program is chiefly due to the committee elected by Superintendent Riggins, having the work of preparation of the institute in hand, and consisting of C. W. Randall (chairman), Mary S. McNulty, Ella Page Steward and E. L. Goss.

Stain" the spectator is surfeited with good acting. The work of Miss Woodruff is exceptionally good; but so is that of the mother and the father also and while the attorney may seem a bit pompous and oppressively virtuous at times, for the most part he is excellent.

Nobody who loves good acting and a story that rings absolutely true can afford to miss "The Stain." It will be at the Lion again today.

HUNT WARNED

Villa's headquarters at Juarez dated today:

"The convention will meet at three in the afternoon when it is expected Carranza's resignation will be received and promptly accepted. The name of General Antonio Villareal, chairman of the convention, will be presented as candidate for provisional president and he will be most satisfactory to all nations."

While the constitutionalists' agency here had no formal comment to make, it was indicated Villareal was likewise regarded with favor by the Carranza faction. Thomas expressed the opinion that Carranza's resignation had probably already been accepted tonight and that Villareal had been chosen but lacked definite advice on this point.

Will Keep Hands Off

Acting on advice received from the war department, regarding the situation at Naco, Gov. Hunt yesterday announced that no movement of the militia will take place at present. Col. Charles W. Harris, adjutant general, and Captain M. J. Seeley, commanding Company K of Tucson, left last night for Naco, where they will keep in touch with the situation.

Excitement in Naco

NACO, Oct. 14.—Secretary Garrison's message to Governor Hunt caused as much excitement here as has been caused by the two-weeks' attack on Naco, Sonora. The war secretary in answering many complaints that the Arizona town has been the target of Mexican bullets told the governor that if the people of the Arizona town would not expose themselves to see the fighting, the situation would be bettered.

Sheriff Wheeler who represents the Arizona state government here in the absence of any national guard officer in answer to Garrison's statement explained the situation.

"Of the five wounded on the American side, all were civilians struck while going about their business. Even the trooper killed was not on the line."

SAY SUBMARINES SAFE

AMSTERDAM (via London), Oct. 14.—An official dispatch from Berlin denies that two German submarines were sunk after the destruction of the Russian cruiser Pallada in the Baltic.

LEON GASS BACK FROM SUMMER AT OCEAN PARK

Chop House Boss Enjoyed Vacation But is Glad to be Back

After spending nearly all the summer at beautiful Ocean Park in California, Leon Gass, the caterer of Gass Brothers and his mother, Mrs. Julius R. Gass, Sr., and his sister, Miss Tillie Gass, returned to Phoenix a few days ago. Mr. Gass is enthusiastic over the trip and says he will repeat the experience annually for he finds the business runs along very well even when he is away. The war and hot weather have not had any effect on the hunger of the inhabitants of Phoenix apparently according to the proprietor of the Chop House. Folks must needs eat and wear clothes for all the war.

While absent from Phoenix and the activities of this section, Mr. Gass did not forget where he lived and continually boosted Phoenix and the great state fair and he says that he believes more people will come to Phoenix for the fair from California this year than ever before.

While away he received the Republican daily and read it with great interest. He says the Los Angeles papers are great affairs but for the size of the city, the section in which it is published and the number of people to draw upon, the Republican has them lashed to the mast.

"HEART OF MIDLOTHIAN" MAKES GREAT PICTURE

When Sir Walter Scott wrote "The Heart of Midlothian" the idea of a moving picture had not been thought of as far as history tells. But nevertheless when the Wizard of Abbotsford penned the tale he gave life to one of the most dramatic and soulstirring pieces of fiction of his or any other generation. It remained for the Famous Players Film company to grasp the possibilities of the story and they have reduced it to 4000 feet of film that fairly bursts with the beauty of the story. Jane Sawyer, one of the best in her line, has the leading role and the story is called "The Woman's Triumph." Manager Nace is congratulating himself on securing the reels. In addition there will be shown a Slippy Slim comedy, "Slippy Slim and the Fortune Teller" and a splendid single reel biograph, "The Terrible Lesson." The Warbler Wonder Orchestra will open the performance at 7 o'clock sharp.

PROGRESSIVES TALK

ship in the progressive party, but that it is simply a growing body of thinking people, both from the democrats as well as from the republican ranks, who believe in a business like administration of national and state affairs, in other words, in government by the people and not by the interests, was the trend of Mayor Young's talk tonight. He said that the progressive principles are the advanced ideas of thinking men and women and that applied to the national, as well as the state government, must result in cleaner, better administration of affairs.

"A good republican, a good democrat or a good progressive, are identical as far as principle goes. They all stand for good government, and that's what the progressive party stands for in Arizona."

Dr. Nelson went at length into national issues and charged the democratic administration with extravagance. He reiterated his oft expressed faith in the future of Arizona, if proper aid is given in furthering her agricultural possibilities through extended irrigation of her arid lands and pledged himself, if elected, to work untiringly for the interests of Arizona first, last and all the time.

Captain Alexander called attention to the alleged remarks of Governor Hunt at the democratic meeting on Tuesday night when he said that the automobile in which he now rides was seized by him as a trophy when he reached the capitol at the conclusion of his Jeffersonian hike on the day of his inauguration, and said that it was a trophy taken from the enemy, which enemy, in view of the fact that it was the people who paid for the machine, must be considered as the self same people. He said that it would be shown at the polls on November 3, that the people are the enemy to Governor Hunt and his extravagant administration.

The meeting was called to order by J. B. Cook, who introduced Rev. Dr. C. H. Dains, as the chairman of the gathering. Music was furnished by the Tempe band.

A feature of the meeting was the presence of Miss Cecil Pearl Buckingham who is enlivening the temperance campaign in Arizona with her delightful singing. She had previously taken part in two or three progressive meetings as a mark of the appreciation of herself and the management of the temperance federation of the action of the progressive party in endorsing the "dry" amendment. Miss Mirta Works of Phoenix, was the accompanist.

Miss Buckingham was obliged to leave early for the Mesa temperance meeting where former Governor St. John of Kansas and Eugene Chaffin, independent prohibition candidate for United States senator, were the principal speakers.

The candidates will speak tonight at Mesa, and will be at Ray on Friday evening, closing the week on Saturday night at Florence, speaking that night in the court room.

Laveen Meeting

The Laveen school house was the scene of one of the most enthusiastic progressive meetings of the campaign in this county last night when a party of speakers composed of Judge David Bishop, L. S. Thompson, L. W. Higgins and Paul Kantz went down to tell the people of that section the good news of clean honest government along business lines. Hugh Monroe presided over the meeting and introduced the speakers. Each of the men pledged the progressive party and its candidates to give the state the best of businesslike government. They told in plain straightforward terms what the progressive party stands for.

Tomorrow night the speakers will meet in the Wilson school house.

OSTEND MAY FALL

sary, five million men can be called for compulsory service, while many volunteers are also available.

Vienna makes claim that the Russians have evacuated Lemberg, while the Russians have denied a similar report that they have given up the siege of Przemyel. It would not surprise military men if the Russians withdrew from Galicia to concentrate their force for a supreme struggle which with the advance of Austro-German armies into Poland is now upon them along the Vistula river from south of Warsaw to their southern boundary.

Nothing has come through concerning the battle in the East Prussian frontier, but the activity of the German fleet in the Baltic and Gulf of Finland may presage the arrival of German reinforcements, which it was reported some days ago are being embarked at German Baltic ports. The German squadron, the flagship of which is flying the flag of Prince Henry, of Prussia, has been cruising in the vicinity of Alan Island. Only a day or two ago the Russian cruiser Pallada was torpedoed by German submarines, two of which were lost. The presence of German ships probably would prevent the Russian warships from coming out to interfere with transports should any be about.

There is every indication that Turkey and Portugal will be drawn into the war. Portugal has not declared war on Germany as was reported earlier in the day but martial law has been declared in Portuguese Congo, and a partial mobilization of her forces will be ordered tomorrow.

The official press bureau issued a statement:

Portugal has an alliance with Great Britain, but this is purely a defensive one, and negotiated for the protection of Portugal, not with the idea that Portugal would ever be called upon to come to the assistance of Great Britain. However, the sympathy of that country is known to be with the allies, and she has had some small difficulties with the Germans in Africa. A short time ago a German officer, suspecting that the Portuguese were instigating unrest among the German colonies of East Africa, crossed into Portuguese Nyassaland, and killed a Portuguese sergeant and four natives.

WAR NEWS FROM EASTERN LINE

Reports Indicate That Russians Suffered Severely at Hands of Germans at Przemyel With Fighting Continuing in Galicia

(ASSOCIATED PRESS DISPATCH)
LONDON, Oct. 14.—The following official statement given out in Berlin, has been received here by Marconi wireless:

"It was announced officially in Vienna yesterday that our troops advancing against Przemyel, supported by a sortie from the garrison, have repulsed encircling troops in such a way that the enemy is now able to maintain its position only before the eastern front of the fortress. Several military bridges near Soudol were broken down during the retreat and many Russians drowned in the river San.

"The fighting east of Chyrow, in Galicia, continues. Our cavalry drove back a Cossack division in the direction of Drohobycz. Marches and fighting during the last few weeks have been made extremely difficult on account of the unfavorable weather and condition of the roads, but the capacity of our brave troops has been brilliantly proved."

The following Serbian official statement was given out at Nish and received here by the Reuter Telegram company:

"On Sunday night the enemy attempted two attacks on the extreme right wing of the front between Svrnik (Bosnia) and Losniza (Serbia). The attacks were repulsed with heavy losses to the Austrians.

On Monday morning they attempted to attack the Serbians twice on the left bank of the Save river, but were repulsed on each occasion with great loss. Our artillery, by accurate fire, spread a panic in the ranks of the enemy."

Press Back Germans
PETROGRAD, Oct. 14.—The general staff has issued the following communication:

"On the left bank of the Vistula and along roads leading from Warsaw to Ivangorod, our troops on October 13, successfully pressed back the German forces. One of our regiments captured two German companies. Fighting continues south of Przemyel. There are no important changes on the other fronts."

News from Galicia
MANCHESTER, Mass., Oct. 14.—The Austro-Hungarian embassy here tonight announced the receipt of an official wireless message from the home government as follows:

"Our advance in Galicia has forced the Russians to lessen their efforts against Przemyel. Yesterday morning our bombardment greatly weakened the Russians, who began to withdraw a part of their forces at Lencut. Our advancing columns met the strong Russian forces, the fighting with which is still continuing. Kuzwadow on the San has been retaken by us.

"In the Carpathians the Russians are fleeing from the Marmores district at Botoske.

"Polish refugees in Vienna give information that the Russians after occupation of Lemberg sent the famous Polish library house in the Ossolinsky institute to Petrograd. Most pro-Russians have declared their intention to blow them up as soon as they are forced to leave the town. This news created both consternation and anger in Polish circles."

NO NEWS FROM PARIS

(ASSOCIATED PRESS DISPATCH)
PARIS, Oct. 14.—A war office official communication says, "reports were received tonight which in very general terms indicate that there is no important modification of the situation."

DIRECTORS' MEETING — There will be a meeting of the directors of the board of trade at the board's offices at four o'clock.

WAR REVENUE BILL

sent to the senate by the secretary of the treasury, indicate that the bill, on last year's trade conditions, will bring in $167,400,000, but said if the production of fermented liquors continued to fall off as in the past two months, the revenue would be $12,498,286.

Under normal conditions the beer supply is $43,795,000 and rectified spirits $5,000,000. The committee tax on sweet wines, according to the estimate, will bring $4,960,000, and on dry wines $2,360,000, making a total on the wines and liquor schedule of $37,015,000. Of special taxes the bankers would pay $4,300,000, pawn brokers, $250,000; commercial brokers, $250,000; custom house brokers, $12,000.

A proposed tax on amusements will raise $2,140,000, of which the largest single item, $750,000 would be paid by moving picture theaters.

The secretary estimated the special tax on the manufacturers of tobacco, cigars and cigarettes would net $5,318,000, the stamp taxes would raise $20,990,000 of which $8,000,000 would come from stock transfers and $1,000,000 from telegraph messages.

The medicinal schedule added by the senate committee is estimated to raise $5,000,000 of which $2,000,000 would be borne by cosmetics and $3,000,000 by chewing gum.
